

GET PAID TO MAKE CONTENT FOR A PENN-ALUM STARTUP.

brodie is a personal trainer that lives in your texts, founded by Penn alumni. We work with the #5 ranked UFC flyweight in the world, Olympic athletes, and influencers with hundreds of thousands of followers. We're running a UGC program with REACH: Penn students make short-form content for the brand and get paid directly, a base per piece plus bonuses on views, with real experience creating for a company with real athletes.

WHY WE'RE DOING IT

Volume finds the hits. Short-form is a power law: one video in many breaks out. More creators, more shots, more breakouts.

Formats get tested at scale. Twenty students trying twenty angles beats one editor guessing.

Students are the audience. Content made by lifters at Pottruck lands with lifters everywhere.

WHAT YOU GET

Money. A base for every published piece, plus bonuses as views climb. Your breakout pays you.

Experience. Briefs, feedback and real performance numbers, every week.

Names. A funded startup, a top-5 UFC fighter and Olympic athletes on your resume.

For REACH: we pay your creators directly, a base per published piece plus view bonuses, run with the Personal Content Creation committee. We bring the budget, the brief, the athletes and the product. REACH brings the creators. One 30-minute call to set the first drop.
